HUGH ROBINSON ON HIS CURTISS BIPLANE AS HE WILL APPEAR AT THE START OF HIS TRIBUNE FLIGHT AT THE LA CROSSE FAIR GROUNDS NEXT THURSDAY

ROBINSON ASKS FOR ADOPTION OF TRIBUNE'S PLAN

Manager McGarvie Writes that New Arrangement Makes Assurance Doubly Sure

A PIECE OF UNUSUAL LUCK

Friday the 13th Robinson's Birthday, and that's Why

He Endorsed Tribune's Request

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Oct. 9. (Special to The Tribune.)—Hugh Robinson, who is to make the Minneapolis-St. St. Paul to New Orleans flight in a hydro-aeroplane, and who is scheduled to conduct an aviation meet in La Crosse Thursday, on Sunday did a spectacular flight on the Mississippi river, starting from the water five times, landing six times, and carrying United States mail from Missouri to Illinois.

In his flights Robinson went under three bridges.

HUGH ROBINSON, the most talked of flying man in the world, will positively personally make THE TRIBUNE's flight at the fair grounds next Thursday.

An additional guarantee of this came this morning in a letter from T. F. McGarvie, national agent of the Curtiss Exhibition company of New York. Mr. McGarvie writes as follows:

Hotel Radisson, Minneapolis, Minn., October 8, 1911. F. H. Burgess, Mgr., The Daily Tribune, La Crosse, Wis.

Dear Mr. Burgess: An extraordinary piece of luck enables me to accede to your request that the start of the trans-Mississippi flight from Minneapolis to New Orleans be postponed until after your aviation meet, so that no accident can bar the appearance of Hugh Robinson at your fair grounds Thursday, Oct. 12.

When you first urged this I did not think any power on earth could postpone that flight, but two things have conspired to suit the arrangements to your convenience. One is delay in some details here. These alone would not have delayed the start, but Friday, the 13th, is Robinson's birthday, and he has a "hunch" to delay his start until the morning of this "joker" day.

It was at Mr. Robinson's special request, made when he

TO CHARGE INTER-STATE FAIR RATE ON SOUTHEASTERN

Peter Valier, general manager of the La Crosse & Southeastern, announces that La Crosse Inter-state fair rates will be given by the Southeastern for The Tribune's aviation meet, Thursday, October 12.

The regular train with special coaches will leave Viroqua at 7:30 a. m.

A special train to take the visitors home will be run over the Southeastern, leaving La Crosse at 7:30 p. m.

Special arrangements are being negotiated with other railroads, and a complete announcement will be made tomorrow.

saw your letter, that the flight was delayed. This means that the chance of an accident in Robinson's flight down the river interfering with his presence at your Aviation Meet Thursday is absolutely removed. Mr. Robinson will proceed from here to La Crosse by train on Wednesday, and will POSITIVELY be in La Crosse to make the flight. Don't forget that it is his record that HE ALWAYS FLIES AS ADVERTISED.

One of the latest improved Curtiss biplanes, thoroughly tested, has been shipped from New York by express, accompanied by an expert mechanic and an experienced aviator. It is now so arranged that nothing but an "act of God or the public enemy" can stop this flight. I congratulate you.

Very truly yours, T. F. McGarvie, CURTISS EXHIBITION CO.

Notwithstanding HUGH ROBINSON has flown over 6,000 miles with ONE MINOR ACCIDENT, travel by aeroplane is not yet as certain as by rail. For this reason The Tribune had urged Mr. McGarvie to postpone the start of Mr. Robinson's flight from Minneapolis to the Gulf scheduled to start Wednesday, until Friday, thus permitting the aviator to come here by train and fly on Thursday.

At the outset Mr. McGarvie insisted that this would be impossible, but the above letter shows how fortune is favoring the people of La Crosse and vicinity.

HUGH ROBINSON will POSITIVELY make this flight, the first ever seen in or near La Crosse, in person. This guarantees an exhibition equal to anything ever seen in an aviation meet in the essentials of speed, deftness of evolutions, and height.

RODGERS REACHES PEORIA

PEORIA, Ill., Oct. 9. —Sweeping down the course of the Illinois river, C. P. Rodgers, the sea-to-sea flyer, reached Peoria at 12:52 today and landed eight minutes later at the fair grounds. Rodgers was going at a terrific pace when he reached the business part of the city. Then he veered off to the north and followed the same course to the fair grounds taken by Turpin four hours earlier.

Rodgers left Joliet this morning and made his only landing at Streator to take on gasoline. He left here shortly after 11 o'clock.

BLACK RIVER TO REBUILD AT ONCE

Site of New Business District Will Probably Be on Highland West of the City

WILL REBUILD BROKEN DAM

Black River Falls Council Meets This Morning; Rebuilding of City Assured

Black River Falls will be rebuilt. Not near the river as before, but on the high ground west of what was the main portion of the city and safe from the possibility of destruction by water.

This was the decision reached yesterday after a consultation of business men there, and orders for supplies and building materials are already being sent out.

La Crosse's, Chippewa Falls' and Eau Claire's quick response to the appeal for aid Saturday saved the residents from a food famine, but unless more supplies arrive there at noon today the city threatens to once more feel the pangs of hunger. "We have enough food to last until this afternoon," was the word of City Clerk Parsons this morning.

Despite the fact that the river has been receding rapidly since the great flood of Friday, several buildings toppled into the river there yesterday. Others are hanging at the water's edge.

Between 5,000 and 6,000 sightseers from Wisconsin points thronged the city Sunday, and it was with difficulty that the soldiers kept the crowds out of danger.

To Rebuild Dam

While the Black River Falls council did not take action at its meeting held this morning it is announced by city officials there today that in all probability the municipal dam which gave way will be rebuilt. This is absolutely necessary to keep the river from eating further into the city, it is claimed.

City Clerk F. A. Parsons positively denied the assertion that the ruin of the city was caused by a weak spot in the Black River dam and not by the Hatfield dam of the La Crosse Water Power company.

"The sentiment of everyone here is that the Hatfield dam is responsible," he said.

WEATHER

For La Crosse and vicinity: Fair and warmer tonight and Tuesday.

For Wisconsin: Generally fair tonight and Tuesday; warmer Tuesday.

For Minnesota: Fair tonight and Tuesday; warmer southeast portion tonight.

For Iowa: Generally fair tonight and Tuesday; warmer tonight and east portion Tuesday.

Weather Notes

Light rain has occurred in the north Pacific states and it is raining this morning in southeastern Texas; elsewhere the weather has been fair.

The pressure is high and the temperature moderately cool from the plains states to the Atlantic coast and frost formed this morning in Nebraska, Kansas, Oklahoma, Colorado, Iowa, northeastern Wisconsin and in the lower lake region. An area of low pressure, central in British Columbia, extends southward through the plateau region to the Mexican border.

These conditions indicate fair and somewhat warmer weather in this section for tonight and Tuesday.

LORIMER HEARING IS RESUMED TOMORROW

CHICAGO, Oct. 9.—Although attorneys for the United States senate committee, which is investigating the charges that United States Senator William Lorimer obtained his seat by bribery and corruption, today declined to talk, there was a persistent rumor in political circles that they have uncovered some sensational evidence during their month's stay in Chicago.

The Lorimer hearing will be resumed here tomorrow morning and the senate committee is expected to sit for a month, taking evidence.

In addition to examining witnesses, the committee has obtained permission to examine the books of Edward Hines, alleged collector, and Edward Tilden, alleged custodian of the Lorimer expense fund.

Following the return of the indictments this afternoon, the grand jury was discharged and the September term of the United States circuit court in this city was brought to a close.

DENGLER IS IDEAL AS SANTA CLAUS

Genuine Need Found by Relief Committee on Arriving at Black River Falls

The La Crosse relief train looked like an unspent million dollars when it arrived at Black River Falls at 6:15 Saturday evening.

Mayor John Dengler was Santa Claus.

His Honor "peeled his coat," and working in his shirt sleeves, personally distributed food to one hundred hungry families.

La Crosse was the first large city to get supplies into the stricken city, and the La Crosse car was the first sign of relief excepting a wagon load of food from Alma Center, and a small consignment from Eau Claire on the noon train.

When the La Crosse relief arrived the car was placed in charge of two deputies, and Mayor Dengler and his assistants went into the city to confer with Mayor J. J. McGillivray and the local relief committee. They found the officials disbursing the few stores that remained in the city, and it was suggested that the La Crosse car be opened for distribution at 7:30.

Crowds Reach Car

Notwithstanding that to reach the car required the ascent of a precipitous gully and a detour of three-quarters of a mile from the usual way, the appointed hour found a throng of people at the car. Some were poor, some were rich, many had just been financially ruined. But in the minds of all one thought was uppermost. THEY WERE HUNGRY.

"We want to buy some food," said one lady. Told it was not for sale, but was free, she said she and her friends could afford to pay, while many others could not. She wanted to pay for what she got.

Finally the mayor persuaded her

NORTHWESTERN TRACKS OUT

Flood Hits Near Lytles and Railroad Tracks Go; the River Reaches High Stage Here

Mrs. Dr. Bradbury, Neilsville, Wis., was perhaps fatally hurt at Allen's Creek, north of Black River Falls yesterday, when an auto, in which she, her husband and another woman were speeding to the scene of the flood, turned over twice in rounding a curve.

Black River Falls, all Sunday and today, is being patrolled by two companies of state militia to prevent looting of the debris. Mauston and Eau Claire companies of the Wisconsin National Guard were rushed to the city early Sunday and immediately men were stationed along the city, among the ruins and at points below to prevent robbers carrying off the property and valuables swept down and thrown up on the banks by the flood.

La Crosse's and Chippewa Falls and Eau Claire's prompt response to Mayor J. J. McGillivray's appeal for aid resulted in averting a possible food famine but late Sunday night City Clerk Parsons at Black River Falls informed The Tribune that unless more foodstuff reached there by Monday afternoon the city would again be in the throes of hunger. Despite the fact that the water at Black River Falls has been receding rapidly since the great flood of Friday afternoon several buildings have since fallen into the river and others are hanging on the edge of the street and may topple over at any minute.

Sunday morning several barns, north of the city, were undermined by the washing of the water and disappeared in the stream.

Dynamite Dam

In an effort to restore the river to its original course a crew of dynamiters worked all Sunday in an effort to blow out the remaining east end of the municipal dam at Black River and at a late hour Sunday afternoon had succeeded in moving portions of its down the stream. Whether or not they will succeed in turning the current into its old bed is only conjecture and many maintain their efforts will be fruitless.

Sunday the city of Black River Falls was flooded with between 5,000 and 6,000 sightseers from points all over Wisconsin. The crowds persisted in getting close to the water's edge and the soldiers with difficulty restrained them from risking their lives to get in the center of the flood territory.

Flood Hits Lytles

The effects of the flood in the upper Black River was felt in this territory strongest yesterday, the water at Lytles going a foot higher in Black River than it has in years. As a result a stretch of the C. & N. W. tracks were washed out between Lytles and Marshland, near what is known as "Tank Creek" and traffic on the line was tied up Saturday night and Sunday. They have been repaired and trains are running.

Word from Lytles, today, however, is to the effect that the waters are receding and that no more damage will result.

The Mississippi river at La Crosse is rising rapidly. At seven o'clock Friday morning the stage was 3.9 feet, an hour later it had jumped to four feet and it has been going up steadily. Late Sunday afternoon it reached a stage of eight feet, the highest recorded this year.

Crowds of La Crosse people thronged the river banks here Friday watching the rising waters whirl by and the view was given variety by the appearance from time to time of barrels, boxes and other debris believed to have been swept down from the ill-fated city of Black River Falls.

FIRST SCENE IN McNAMARA CASE IS ENACTED TODAY

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Oct. 9. —The first scene in the McNamara trial, which is attracting world-wide attention, was enacted here today, when 125 prospective jurors were summoned before Judge Walter Bordwell for preliminary examination as to their qualifications to sit in judgment on the men charged with dynamiting the Los Angeles Times building October 1, 1910. The real work of selecting the jurors will begin Wednesday, but today marked the opening of the preliminary work for the trial.

STATE OFFERS MANY NEW JOBS

Notice Issued for General Competitive Examinations to Be Held November 11

TO BE CIVIL SERVICE TESTS

Assessors of Incomes Created by New Tax Law; Examinations for Cadetships

MADISON, Wis., Oct. 9.—(Special.)—The state civil service commission today issued notice of a general competitive examination for state positions to be held in various cities on Saturday, November 11. In many ways the most important of these is for assessors of incomes, a new position under the state tax commission. The examination is for men and forty appointments will probably be made. Another new position for which tests will be given is that of city sealer of weights and measures, each city of more than 5,000 people except Milwaukee being required to employ one.

Other examinations will be given for the following positions: Assistant chemist, dairy and food commission, one position, for men only, salary $1,200 and traveling expenses; cheese factory, dairy and food inspector, dairy and food commission men only, compensation $3 a day and traveling expenses with chance of promotion; guard, Wau-pun prison and Green Bay reformatory, salaries from $50 to $65 per month; janitor, state university, salaries $45 to $65 per month, previous experience not required; statistical clerk, for both men and women, salary $50 to $100 per month, technical training in financial statistics necessary; woman factory inspector, Wisconsin industrial commission, salary $900 per year and traveling expense.

Attendants at the state hospital for the insane and feeble minded are also sought, with salaries of from $20 to $40 per month and maintenance. No written examination is required. These positions have been made unusually desirable by the addition of training schools in nursing, free of charge.

During the week following Nov. 11 examinations will be held for stenographers, with average salaries from $60 to $75 per month.

"Hurry up" examination has been ordered for the position of accountant under the state railroad commission. It will be held on October 21.

Preliminary competitive examinations for cadetships at West Point and Annapolis will be held on December 2 at the county seats. Nine appointments are to be made for Annapolis and two for West Point. Senators La Follette and Stephenson and Congressmen Lenroot, Kopp, Davidson, Nelson, Knop and Berger have each asked the civil service commission to hold examinations and have agreed to appoint the young man who shall stand highest. These tests will be held for the second, third, fourth, fifth, eighth, ninth and eleventh districts. There are no vacancies at present in the other districts.

U. S. ATTORNEYS ACCUSED

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9.—"Misrepresentation" of facts was charged against the department of justice in its suit against the Anthracite Coal trust, in a brief filed with the supreme court of the United States today by the Central Railroad of New Jersey.

The carrier declared that "by an artificial juxtaposition of unrelated facts, which took place prior to enactment of the Sherman law, the government attempted to create 'an artificial atmosphere of suspicion.' It alleged that the department of justice attorneys deliberately quoted testimony condemned by the lower court" in their effort to find the "trust" a conspiracy in restraint of trade.

ROYAL FORCE IS BEATEN IN FIGHT

Modern Battleships Ready to Bombard Town; Manuel Wants No Throne

VIGO, Oct. 9.—Severe fighting between the Portuguese royalists and republicans is reported from across the frontier. Captain Couceiro, in command of the royal forces, is said to have been defeated at Brigancia in the northeast and at Vinsaes, fourteen miles further west, a royalist column is reported surrounded.

The most sensational news however, comes from Oporto, where it is believed a decisive battle of the uprising will be fought. It is asserted that two modern battleships are now off the port ready to bombard the town as soon as the land battle begins. The government has rushed reinforcements to the garrison.

The Portuguese government, after repeated denials that there was any serious trouble, has at length officially recognized the revolt.

LONDON, Oct. 9.—The reports that ex-King Manuel has left England to head the uprising in his favor in Portugal, are absolutely groundless. Manuel is still at Richmond and has made a formal denial of any intention of leaving the country. As a matter of fact he shows very little enthusiasm over the prospect of once more climbing into his blood-stained throne.

ITALY WINS ALL TRICKS IN GAME

First Week of War Leaves Turkey Helpless and Plunged in Gloom

PREPARES TO INVADE GREECE

Europe Holds Its Breath, Fearing that War May Get Out of Bounds

LONDON, Oct. 9.—The first week of the war between Italy and Turkey has closed with all the tricks thus far taken by the Italians. Tripoli has fallen, an Italian force holds the coast of Cyrenica, the Italian navy dominates the Mediterranean, the Adriatic and the Red sea, menacing the ports of European Turkey and assuring the safe passage of the military expedition of 50,000 men that Italy is about to land in Tripoli to complete her conquest.

Turkey remains inert and apparently helpless. She has seen the last remnant of the one-time great Ottoman empire in Africa torn from her grasp, practically without an effort to save it. Rent by internal divisions, threatened with revolt in her turbulent European provinces, surrounded on every hand by relentless foes, she remains plunged in apathy.

At the outbreak of the war grave fears were expressed in the capitals of Europe that a general European conflict might be provoked. Italy's action in attacking Preveza, a port in European Turkey, was bitterly resented by Austria, who threatened to take a hand in the dispute if Italian troops were landed in Albania. The storm was averted, however, by the decision of the Rome government to cease its operations in the Adriatic.

The most disquieting news at present comes from Athens. One army corps of the Greek army has been mobilized and there is a feverish activity in part of the Greek war department. Turkey, helpless in Africa, is said to be willing to recoup herself by seizing Thessaly. Already 250,000 of the sultan's troops are under arms and double this number are being mobilized. Profound unrest is apparent all over the Balkans and a park may explode that powder mine at any moment with the most tremendous consequences.

STATE DEMANDS RIGHTS

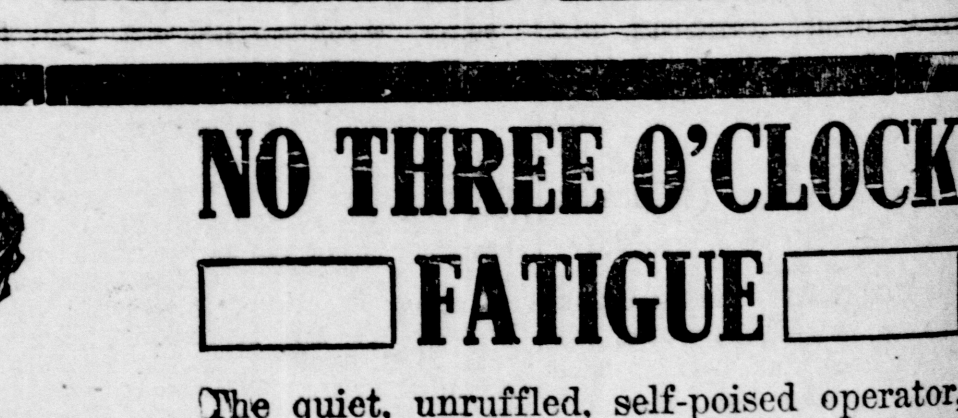

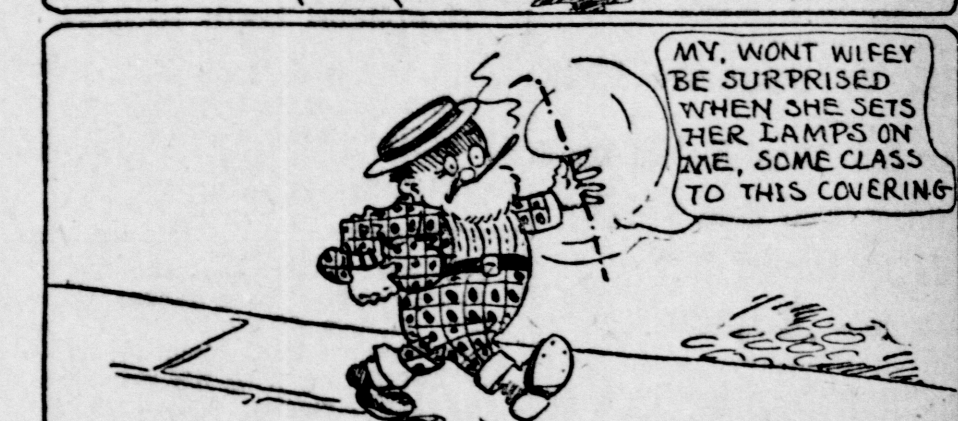

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9.—The old state rights doctrine was enunciated in a new form today when the commonwealth of Kentucky filed at the supreme court of the United States a brief asserting that the state alone had power to fix intra-state rates. The brief denied the contention of the Louisville and Nashville railroad, which appeared in a test suit, that reduction of rates within the state constituted interference with inter state commerce. The brief filed today covers the exact points which the recent conference of governors at Spring Lake, N. J. agreed should constitute the attitude of the states.

A CITY'S PROBLEM

The question of rebuilding Black River Falls is an engineering problem. A portion of the townsite is silted. This section is now traversed by a river bed. The area involved is as great as the fill that comprises La Crosse's new levee park.

This represents a stupendous
task, but it is the least of the work involved. Obviously, there is no use of restoring the land unless there shall be afforded assurance that the next flood will not again
wash it away. Safety can be secured only by a rearrangement of the city dams so as to direct the course
of surplus water away from the city.

tivity of The Tribune's participation in the Black River Falls relief work, but gave no space to the stricken city's appeal for aid. It is to be innocuous only to become negative.

Stephenson built a railroad and locomotive, and the world was skeptical.
People grinned at the Morse
telegraph, at Marconi's wireless telegraph, at the automobile.

But all these things now have
their place, each an important place, in the life of today. They are sources of convenience, pleasure and profit. They were pooh-poohed, but time demonstrated their practicability.

The last great achievement of science was the evolution of the aeroplane. Perhaps it is the most wonderful of all. For man to fly
in the air would seem more difficult than to walk upon the water.

Yet man has flown, and is flying every day. The aeroplane has not reached the practical stage in the commercial sense, although it is being employed by armies, navies, mail routes. But it is being rapidly developed, and it is to the hardy
pioneers who are risking their lives
to perfect it that much of the world's debt is owed.

Such a man is Hugh Robinson,
the famous aviator who will fly in
The Tribune's aviation meet at the fair grounds in this city next Thursday.

Did not we believe that we were conferring an advantage upon the people of this section, we would not have essayed this undertaking.
It involves much labor and expense,
and the shortness of our time adds
to the pressure of effort.

But it has seemed to us that the people of La Crosse, and of the surrounding villages, cities and country, should have an opportunity to witness an aeroplane flight. Such a flight has educational value, and affords rare entertainment. And notwithstanding that thousands of flights have been made, and that the aeroplane is familiar to the people of many sections, it is probable that not more than one person
in one hundred in this entire field
has had the pleasure of seeing one.

The Tribune began negotiations
for a flight at La Crosse months ago, and received many propositions
from aviation companies. It accepted none, because it could not secure
the services of the kind of an aviator
it wanted. We determined that if we gave an exhibition, it would not be in the hands of an amateur,
and result in failure or disaster. We
proposed to SECURE A BIRDMAN
OF INTERNATIONAL FAME, OR NONE AT ALL.

The Minneapolis to New Orleans
flight of the Trans-Mississippi Flight association gave The Tribune its chance. This flight was sending Hugh Robinson winging swiftly over La Crosse. If we could stop him
here, if we could secure the services
of this experienced, daring and celebrated aviator, we could give
the people a rare exhibition.

We took it up with the Curtiss Exhibition company, and finally came to terms. The Trans-Mississippi Flight association agreed to halt
their flight against Atwood's distance record at La Crosse for more than a day in order to give us the services of HUGH ROBINSON.

Glen Curtiss thereupon ordered a great biplane shipped to the Interstate Fair grounds at La Crosse,
and sent its national agent, H. P.
McGarvie, from New York City to help arrange The Tribune's aviation meet. Mr. McGarvie after looking over the conditions here said his company would GUARANTEE THE FLIGHT.

It is by virtue of this advantageous arrangement which, favored by fortune, we have been able to make,
that The Tribune is enabled to present to the people living within a radius of one hundred miles of La Crosse the pleasures of AVIATION DAY, Thursday, Oct. 12, at the Interstate Fair Grounds, La Crosse, Wisconsin.

LET YOUR PURSE BE ELOQUENT
No deserving appeal for financial aid has ever been made to the citizens of La Crosse in vain.

Among all the hundreds of appeals that have received generous responses here, none has been calculated to go so straight to the hearts of La Crosse people as the cry for help that comes from Black River Falls.

The entire state has been asked to help, and will doubtless respond,
but it is particularly incumbent upon
us to do so because these unhappy people are our neighbors. Many of us know many of them personally.
There exists an intimacy of business
and social relationship between us.
Some of us have relatives there, and some of them have relatives here.
So close is our touch that their disaster brings to us a feeling of personal loss and inspires in us profound compassion.

The loss of Black River Falls is appalling in its completeness. Think of a city of 2,000 inhabitants, centrally located, so completely flood-swept that on the evening of the first day of its visitation its people
were without food, many of them
without clothing, hundreds of them
without homes.

Light service gone, water service
and fire protection gone. Buildings, including all banks and stores, most
of the hotels and many homes gone,
without a cent of insurance on any of the fifty-one destroyed structures.
Stocks of stores wiped out to the last nutmeg. And, most emphatic feature of their loss, the ground, the lots on which they built, gone with the other property. That is as complete a story of ruin as mind can conceive, and it came to Black River Falls in one short half hour.

We would pause to dwell upon the fortitude of these, our neighbors, did time permit. We would here pay tribute to the courage and optimism of a stricken populace that on the night
of their undoing discussed ways and means of rebuilding a city the very real estate of which has disappeared
in a relentless torrent that is still gnawing at the pitiful carcass of its victim. But let history provide suitable encomiums. The first great duty
today is TO SUCCOR THE UNFOR-TUNATE ONES.

Saturday Mayor Dengler and his committee did the humane and manly thing. They did not ask, "What shall we do?" "How shall we do it?"
"Who will pay for it?"

THEY RUSHED AID TO THE SUFFERERS.
It was ample for the day. It was sent swiftly and disbursed immediately. La Crosse was the first city to act. It was first on the ground. It proved its humanity and its manhood and womanhood.

"We had no time to consult, we had to act. We knew the good people of La Crosse would back us and pay the bill."

That is the way Mayor Dengler put it. We know he was right. We know there will come from our fellow citizens generous donations.

Contributions may be sent to Mayor John Dengler, or to any member of the relief committee, which consists of John C. Burns, Frank Sisson, C. S. Van Auken, William
Wiggenhorn, C. Tisdale, Wm. F.
Hurtgen, J. M. Hixon, and all the newspapers. The Tribune will accept donations from those to whom it is convenient.

We know our readers will give liberally, and our only suggestion is this:

DO IT NOW!

A Barrel of Money
Some of the older and richer men
of Montana got their starts toward their present wealth by trading with the Indians. Also the Indians got their starts toward poverty through the same process; but that was many years ago.

One of these men came into a hotel
in Helena not long ago and an old timer, in from his ranch, watched him for a minute and looked out of the window at his big automobile.

"Do you know how he got his start?" asked the old timer. "Well, I'll tell you. He sold whiskey to the Indians. He used to take a barrel of water, put in a gallon of alcohol to give it a flavor, some burned sugar
to give it a color, a few grains of strychnine to make it go some, two plugs of tobacco to make you sick
and two bars of soap to give it a head, and trade it to the Indians—
one drink for a buffalo robe."

How to Banish a Double Chin and Wrinkles

(Women's Fortnightly Journal.)

In a few weeks' time you will not know that you ever possessed wrinkles, "crow's feet," a double chin or enlarged pores if you go right now to the drug store and buy an ounce and a half of thermodized jelly, and rub half a teaspoonful into your face until it is absorbed, and follow it with a wash of very cold water. After only one treatment your face will feel taut and refreshed. This old-fashioned home remedy really brings marvelous results, although its action is simple and natural. As you perhaps know,
the fibrous tissues beneath the cuticle become starved and jaded.
Thermodized jelly feeds and nourishes these tissues and supplies them with the needed heat energy. Thus it reaches the real cause of sagging flesh and starts
immediately to draw the flesh
back again to its old-time
smoothness and healthy firmness.

To Eat or Just to Dine
When Colonel Roosevelt was
president, Senator Henry Cabot Lodge, of Massachusetts, was one of the sycophants at the White House.
The senator ran in on his literary co-worker and old college chum at all times of the day and night and
most frequently at luncheon-time.

One day some Massachusetts people came to Washington and asked
the late Senator George Frisbie
Hoar to take them to the White House and introduce them to the resident.

Senator Hoar looked at the party
for a moment. Then he shook his head and said: "No, I think you'd better get Lodge to introduce you at the White House. He eats there and I only dine there occasionally."

A Mysterious Look
The steamer Acapulco, of the Pacific Mail Line, picked up at Amapala the Honorable Robert F. Broussard and a friend of his named Carlisle. They had made the trip overland through Honduras and were on their way to San Francisco.

A night or two later Broussard
and Carlisle were seated on the after promenade deck on the starboard side. The steamer was going along easily through a calm sea, and
just below where they sat a pipe
was discharging into the sea in a good-sized stream the water from the condenser.

Carlisle and Broussard watched
the outboard delivery of the water from the condenser. Then Carlisle said: "Bob, they have been pumping water out this steamer ever since we left Amapala. Had you noticed that?"

"Yes," replied Broussard, "I had observed that."

"Well, what do you suppose it is?"

"I don't know," Broussard answered. "It does not seem possible
that any steamer should leak like that!"

His Economy
The children in the Blank family
were taught habits of neatness at the table by being compelled to pay a fine of one cent for every spot they put on the tablecloth. One day Harold, a boy of seven years, was discovered rubbing the overhanging
part of the cloth between his fingers, and when taken to task for it
he said:
"Why, mummy, I was just trying to rub two spots into one."—October

The PRODIGAL JUDGE
The Famous Novel by
VAUGHAN KESTER
Copyright, 1911, The Bobbs-Merrill Company

"Back in Kentucky. He takes rafts down the river to New Orleans, then he comes back on ships
to Baltimore, or else he hoofts it noth overland. He wants to visit the Forks," he added.

"I'm shortly goin' that way myself, Mr. Carrington, and I'll be pleased of your company—but, first
I got to get through with Bob Yancy," said Balaam, and again he produced the warrant. "If agreeable to you, Bob, I'll ask Uncle Sammy to read this here warrant."

"Whose been a-warrantin' Bob Yancy?" cried Uncle Sammy.
"Dave Blount has."

"I knowed hit—I knowed he'd try to get even. What's the charge agin you, Bob?"

"Read hit," said Balaam. "Why,
sho—can't you read plain writin',
Uncle Sammy?" for the patriarch
was showing signs of embarrassment.

"If you gentlemen will let me—"
said Carrington pleasantly. After a moment's scrutiny of the paper that Balaam had thrust in his hand,
Carrington began:

"To the Sheriff of the County of Cumberland: Greetings:
Whereas, it is alleged that a murderous assault has been committed on one David Blount, of Fayetteville, by Robert Yancy, of Scratch Hill, said Blount sustaining
numerous bruises and contusions,
to his great injury of body and mind; and whereas, it is further alleged that said murderous assault
was wholly unprovoked and without cause, you will forthwith take into custody the person of said Yancy, of Scratch Hill, charged with having inflicted the bruises and contusions
herein set forth in the complaint of said Blount, and instantly bring him into our presence to answer
to these and several crimes and misdemeanors. You are empowered to seize said Yancy wherever he may be at; whether on the hillside
or in the valley, eating or sleeping,
or at rest.

"De Lancy Balaam, Magistrate."
Fourth District, County of Cumberland, State of North Carolina.
Done this twenty-fourth day of May,
185.

"P. S.—Dear Bob: Dave Blount
says he ain't able to chew his meat.
I thought you'd be glad to know."

Smilingly Carrington folded the warrant and handed it to Yancy.
"Well, what are you going to do about hit, Bob?" inquired Balaam.

"Maybe I'd ought to go. I'd like to oblige the squire," said Yancy.
"Suppose I come to the Cross Roads this evening?"

"That's agreeable," said the deputy, who presently departed in company with Carrington.

Some hours later the male population of Scratch Hill, with a gravity befitting the occasion, prepared itself to descend on the Cross Roads and give its support to Mr. Yancy in his hour of need. Even Uncle Sammy, who had not been off the Hill
in years, announced that no consideration of fatigue would keep him away from the scene of action, and Yancy loaned him his mule and cart for the occasion. Yancy led the straggling procession, with the boy
trailing by his side, his little sunburned fist clasped in the man's great hand.

The squire's court held its infrequent sittings in the best room of the Balaam homestead, a double cabin of hewn logs. Here Scratch Hill was gratified with a view of Mr. Blount's battered visage.

"What's all this here fuss betwixen
you and Bob Yancy?" demanded the squire when he had administered
the oath to Blount. Mr. Blount's statement was brief and very much to the point.

"He done give me the order from the judge of the co't—I was to show
it to Bob Yancy—"

"Got that order?" demanded the squire sharply. With a smile, Blount produced the order. "Hmmm—appointed guardian of the boy—"
the squire was presently heard to murmur. The crowded room was very still now, and more than one pair of
dreyes were turned pityingly in

still now, and more than one pair of
dreyes were turned pityingly in Yancy's direction. When the long arm of the law reached out from Fayetteville, where there was a real judge and a real sheriff, it clothed itself with terrors.

"Well, Mr. Blount, what did you do with this here order?" asked the squire.

"I showed Yancy the order—"
"You lie, Dave Blount; you didn't!" said Yancy. "But I can't say as it would have made no difference, Squire. He'd have taken his licking just the same and I'd have had my nevvie out of that buggy!"

"Didn't he say nothing about this here order from the co't, Bob?"
"There wasn't much conversation,
Squire. I invited my nevvie to light down, and then I snaked Dave Blount out over the wheel."

"Who struck the first blow?"
"He did. He struck at me with his buggy whip."

Squire Balaam removed his spectacles and leaned back in his chair.
"It's the opinion of this here co't
that the whole question of assault rests on whether Bob Yancy saw the order. Dave Blount swears he showed it to him. If Bob Yancy didn't know of the existence of the order he was clearly actin' on the idea that Blount was stealin' his nevvie, and he done what any one
would have done under the circumstances. If, on the other hand, he knewed of this order from the co't,
he was not only guilty of assault,
but he was guilty of resistin' an officer of the co't." The squire paused impressively. His audience drew a long breath.

"Can a body drap a word here?"
It was Uncle Sammy's thin voice
that cut into the silence.

"Certainly, Uncle Sammy. This
here co't will always admire to listen to you."

"Well, I'd like to say that I consider that Fayetteville co't might official with its orders. This party of the county won't take nothin' off Fayetteville. We don't interfere with Fayetteville, and I blamed if we'll let Fayetteville interfere with us! There was a murmur of approval. Scratch Hill remembered
the rifles in his hands and took comfort.

"The Fayetteville co't air a higher co't than this, Uncle Sammy?" asked
the squire indulgently.

"I'm awer of that," snapped the patriarch. "I've seen hit's steeple."
"Air you finished, Uncle Sammy?"
asked the squire deferentially.

"I low I am. But I low that if this here case is goin' agin Bob Yancy I'd recommend him to go home and not listen to no mo' foolishness."

"Mr. Yancy will oblige this co't by setting still while I finish this case," said the squire with dignity.
"Mr. Yancy has sworn to one thing,
Mr. Blount to another. Now the Yancys air an old family in these parts; Mr. Blount's folks air strangers. Consequently," pursued the squire, somewhat vindictively, "we ain't had any time in which to form an opinion of the Blounts, but for myself I'm suppos of folks that keep movin' about and who don't seem able to get located permanentnowheres, who air here today and away tomorrow. But you can't say that of the Yancys. They air an old family in the country, and naturally
this co't feels obliged to accept a Yancy's word before the word of a stranger. And, in view of the fact that the defendant did not seek litigation, but was perfectly satisfied
to let matters rest where they was,
it is right and just that all costs
should fall on the plaintiff."

Final arrangements for the seventh annual convention of the Wisconsin
Association of Master Bakers were Unusual interest attaches to the convention this year, through the fact that the industrial commission

of Wisconsin will on Wednesday
have a hearing in the city hall on the proposed rules for the sanitary regulation of bakeries, said to be the strongest ever prepared, either in this country or abroad. There are 108 of these rules, covering every detail of construction, care and to the proposed rules will have to be made at this hearing.

FOLKS PAST FIFTY

MUST USE CASCARETS

What glasses are to weak eyes, Cascarets are to weak bowels—a 10-cent box will truly amaze you.

Most old people must give to the bowels some regular help, else they suffer from constipation. The condition is perfectly natural. It is just as natural as it is for old people to walk slowly. For age is never so active as youth. The muscles are less elastic. And the bowels are muscles.

So all old people need Cascarets. One might as well refuse to aid weak eyes with glasses as to neglect this gentle aid to weak bowels. The bowels must be kept active. This is important at all ages, but never so much as at fifty.

Age is not a time for harsh physics. Youth may occasionally whip the bowels into activity. But a lash can't be used every day. What the bowels of the old need is a gentle and natural tonic. One that can be constantly used without harm. The only such tonic is Cascarets and they cost only 10 cents per box at any drug store. They work while you sleep.

WILL ARBITRATE DES MOINES STRIKE

DES MOINES, Iowa, October 9.—The threatened strike of the Des Moines street car men was averted late on Saturday, when the third arbitrator was chosen to decide the controversy which has been pending for several months. Though Judge McHenry refused to serve as arbitrator, union leaders said they believed the company acted in good faith in choosing the jurist, even though he declined the position, and would defer the walk out until other candidates could be presented.

The union men decided to walk out if the company did not come to an agreement on the arbitration matter, it being claimed that an effort was being made to delay the proceedings.

The arbitration board will decide whether the car men recently discharged shall be reinstated or not.

BALLOONISTS LAND IN JUNGLE

Last of Kansas City Racers Comes Down in Northern Wisconsin; Saw the Flood

HOLCOMB, Wis., Oct. 9.—Landing in a wilderness so dense that it took eight hours to get five miles to this place, the German balloon Berlin II came to earth safely at 6:30 o'clock Saturday morning. Lieut. Hans Gericke, the famous Teutonic aeronaut, and his aid, J. D. Dunker, left today for Kansas City with their balloon, which they believe to be uninjured.

It is the wildest part of Wisconsin. This place itself is only a hamlet of 100 population. Had the balloonists landed 10 miles farther west they would have been in a part of the state never reached except by deer hunters.

The balloon had been sailing over the Minnesota and northern Wisconsin wilderness for nearly twenty-four hours after the other contestants had landed, seeking for some sign of civilization. Following the train of the other balloons, which went north, the Berlin II went through Iowa into Wisconsin, over the Black river country, where a flood devastated Black River Falls on Friday and Saturday, then back into northern Minnesota. The balloon was near the Canadian line, as nearly as the aeronauts can explain. They then came back in a back current, which brought them again over the desolate Minnesota iron ranges and cut over pine land, again reaching Wisconsin. It is presumed, during Friday night.

The gas was by this time becoming exhausted, and the aeronauts decided to descend in the first spot they could find that seemed to promise a chance of reaching civilization. The balloon was finally landed in a plain of the so-called pine barrens—cut over pine forest—and the aeronauts, after deflating the balloon, started to walk through the jungle, as it is called here, to Holcomb.

GODDARD HAY BARN BURNS UNDAID

The large hay barn of the Goddard estate, located in the marsh near Indian Hill, was destroyed Saturday evening about 6 o'clock by a fire of unknown origin. Owing to its inaccessibility from the city, the barn was burned without any efforts to save it on the part of the fire department. Sixty-five tons of hay were destroyed in the blaze.

SOME MODERN HYMNS BEING ELIMINATED

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Oct. 9.—Some of the modern hymns, sung mainly in Sunday schools, are properly being eliminated in a sane revision of song books used in the church today, according to Dr. Andrew Gillies, a prominent figure in the deliberations of the northern Minnesota conference of the Methodist Episcopal church, in session in Minneapolis.

Commenting on the statement of Governor Woodrow Wilson of New Jersey that "Beautiful Isle of Somewhere" is silly, Dr. Gillies said: "Expression of the general trend toward greater discrimination in the choice of hymns—a return to the grand hymns, which combine inspiring poetry and moving music, after a session of popularity of the jingles of the Moody and Sankey, or popular music types."

Nobody ever got ahead by following the crowd.

A HARMLESS WAY TO DARKEN THE HAIR

A Little Sage and Sulphur Makes Gray Hair Vanish—A Remedy
for All Hair Troubles

Who does not know the value of sage and sulphur for keeping the hair dark, soft, glossy and in good condition? As a matter of fact, sulphur is a natural element of hair and a deficiency of it in the hair is held by many scalp specialists to be connected with loss of color and vitality of the hair. Unquestionably, there is no better remedy for hair and scalp troubles, especially premature graying, than sage and sulphur. It properly prepared, The Wyeth Chemical company of New York put up an ideal remedy of this kind, called Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy, and authorize druggists to sell it under guarantee that the money will be refunded if it fails to do exactly as represented.

This preparation is offered to the public at fifty cents a bottle, and is recommended and sold by all druggists. O. T. Erhart.

Still the fears of the anxious St. Paul mother the news editor went out to the composing room to make up the mail edition.

TOMAH FAIR ON THIS WEEK

TOMAH, Wis., Oct. 9.—The principal event of this week is the Tomah fair which commences Tuesday, Oct. 10 and continues three days. This is the only fair in Monroe county this year and it is reasonably expected that it will be patronized in a liberal way by people all over the country. Unusually good exhibits in livestock, farm, fruits and dairy products. The races will be interesting. There will be a walking race, mule races and other novelties. The fair will be very interesting and every one should attend. Many shows have arrived and some are up on the Midway. A number of stock exhibits are also on the grounds. A number of free attractions have been engaged.

On account of the heavy rains which have occurred lately the creeks are overflowing their banks. Watermill pond dam was very nearly destroyed Friday. The water was about two feet higher than it usually is and broke through the dam near the north pour-over. Several men noticed the accident and let the water out by breaking the plank under the bridge. Notice was sent to the farmers in the valley below and all the water was let out with the exception of three feet. Many fish were swept away but many remained. The dam will be repaired after the water of Mill creek decreases.

The case of Frank Stien and the C. A. Goodyear company was settled last week in circuit court. The jury returned a verdict for $3,500 for Mr. Stien. A short while after

BLACK RIVER LOSS OVER $2,000,000

Committee Says $1,500,000 Estimate Is But Three-fourths of Actual Value

TRIBUNE'S FIGURES RIGHT

Exclusive estimate of Saturday Night Is Remarkable for Accuracy

The first official estimate of the losses entailed at Black River Falls was received in La Crosse today in the form of a tabulated statement prepared by a committee composed of C. E. Mower, F. B. Dell and Martin Tollack.

The committee places the lowest possible estimate at $1,500,000, and in a footnote explains that this represents the taxable property destroyed and is about three-fourths of the total loss. This would bring the figures to at least $2,000,000 and the fact that the committee admits overlooking a number of other places wiped out makes the Tribune's exclusive $2,500,000 estimate of Saturday night, nearly correct.

Following is the detailed estimated loss as a result of the awful flood that wiped out the business district and a portion of the residence district of that city Friday:

Larson & Hagen, $3,000 to $5,000; Farmers' Creamery association, about $3,500; Bright & Bailey, $1,500 to $2,000; Wm. Tester, hotel and feed barn, $1,000; J. R. McDonald, store building, $10,000; Jones L. & M. Co., building and stock, $50,000 to $75,000; Fannie M. Post, hotel, $25,000; B. R. Falls L. & M. Co., building and stock, $30,000 to $40,000; Johnson Bros., general furnishings, $15,000 to $17,000; Chester Bouvan, saloon and household goods, $1,500; Wehinger & Johnson, building and barn, $20,000 to $25,000; G. Vincent, millinery stock and household goods, $3,000 to $5,000; Journal Printing office and Merline Hull law office, $5,000; Tollack & Sons, stock and building, $20,000 to $40,000; F. D. PARENTS URGED TO AID TEACHERS

First Meeting of Parents' and Teachers' Association to Be Held Tuesday; All Parents Invited

The first meeting of the Parents and Teachers' association will be held in the high school building on Tuesday evening, October 10th, at 7:30 o'clock. The object of the meeting is to give parents and teachers an opportunity to become better acquainted and to discuss problems relating to the high school.

The association was organized for the purpose of bringing parents and teachers closer together; of promoting greater co-operation between them; and of making the school of better and greater service to the community. That the meetings have been very beneficial cannot be questioned but owing to the fact that many parents have been absent the degree of success has not been as great as was expected. There has, therefore, been concerted effort on the part of the officers of the association and the members of the faculty to bring out more parents at this meeting.

It is impossible for many parents to visit school during school hours and consequently there are many who have never made the acquaintance of the teachers in charge of their children. The opportunity will be afforded at this and subsequent meetings during the year and parents are urged to take advantage of it. It is hoped that every family represented in the high school will also be represented at this meeting.

CRAWFORD CASE OPENS

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 9. — The grand jury met today to consider the case of Annie Crawford, the young woman charged with murdering her sister, Elsie, and suspected of causing the deaths of three other members of her family.

The property estimates given the value of lots where buildings stood, has not been taken into consideration and will represent a total as the main channel of the river flows where these buildings stood.

The few remaining business buildings are in immediate danger of being washed away as the current is setting directly toward them, and if a rise in the river they will surely go.

We further estimate that the washout of the business portion of the city will reach half a million dollars for lots alone.

Property, $1,000,000; real estate lots (estimated), $500,000; 75 per cent taxable property.

C. E. MOWER, F. B. DELL, MARTIN TOLLACK, Committee.

Since the above estimate was made we have discovered that we have omitted several secret societies who lost their furniture and fixtures and F. J. Reinbach's law office and library, and also that of L. O. Ellis, law office furniture and fixtures, Mrs. S. E. S. Wason and L. W. Drew, who lost furniture and bedding, besides many others, whose losses will aggregate several thousand dollars.

MAJESTIC BUILDING

PHIL AND BESSIE FEATURE THE BILL

Mills and Moulton Make Unqualified Hit as Climax of Excellent Bill at the Majestic

MOTION PICTURES OF FLOOD

Terrible Disaster at Austin, a., Shown in Pictures at the Majestic This Week

If there is something wrong with your "tummy," and it hurts you to laugh, be sure that you leave the Majestic before the last act that is billed there this week. Otherwise, you are liable to be racked with agony as your uncontrollable mirth wobbles your tender digestive organs about. Mills and Moulton, in a "Trial Performance," have a little bit the finest laugh provoking stunt that has appeared at the Majestic for many a long day. It is clean all through, and all the laughs which the two clever performers win from the house are legitimate tributes to straight comedy of the best sort. Miss Bessie Moulton delights the eye, and her voice accomplishes the same feat with the ears. Her companion, in the character of a Dutchman with "histrionic aspirations and not the requisite talent," is irresistible.

The rest of the bill is of a character in keeping with the final act. It combines cleverness and daring with tuneful singing in a well-balanced whole. Next to the Mills and Moulton act comes that of the Seven Russells, in a minstrel first part that is novel and interesting. The songs are catchy and well delivered, the dancing is good, and the costumes of the piece is really gorgeous. Bones and Tambo, the two end men, are full of funny cracks, which they spring with great effect, and the singing of the four younger members of the troupe lingers in the minds of the hearer as a pleasant memory. A quartette clog dance which is exhibited is a novel and interesting stunt new to local theater goers.

Nick Conway, as Laughing Casey, is an Irish comedian who gets his efforts over in good shape. He delivers an oration on women, a satirical talk which makes a great hit with the masculine portion of the house, and evokes peals of laughter. The climax of his act is his final song, the famous Laughing Casey song, which contains a laugh so infectious that the whole assembled audience laughs in concert.

The Musical Bells have a musical act that is new in construction, which introduces ragtime solos on a concertina by Arthur Bell that are distinctly the feature of the act.

The first act on the bill is that of the Bauder-LaVelle trio of trick and comedy cyclists. The act is thrilling with daring stunts and exhibits feats of equilibrium and clever handling of a wheel that have never been duplicated at the Majestic. There is a comedian, also, who is so comical that all he needs to do to get a laugh is to appear from the wings.

The moving pictures are excellent, the feature film being scenes at the recent awful flood disaster at Austin, Pa. The film shows the great damage done by the torrent, and gives an excellent idea of the irresistible force of water.

TURKO-ITALIAN WAR IS A JOKE

Only Casualties of Great Bombardment of Tripoli Are Three Spectators

LONDON, Oct. 9.—The casualties in the great war between Italy and Turkey has resolved itself today into the accidental killing of two men and a woman during the furious bombardment of Tripoli.

During the first days of the war every capital in Europe teemed with circumstantial reports of fierce fighting by land and sea, but now that the cable between Tripoli and Malta has been reopened these reports have been shown to be considerably exaggerated and, in some instances, manufactured out of whole cloth.

The usual report reached here today of Turkish torpedo boats being sunk in the Adriatic with the variation of a sensational rumor that the Turks had sunk an Austrian ship. Little credence is placed here in either report.

Dispatches from Malta state that the fishermen arrived there from Tripoli, say the town was practically unharmed by the bombardment, and that the Italian gunners fired so wildly that most of their shots passed over the forts and buried themselves harmlessly in the sand. These same witnesses assert that the only casualties were three people killed while watching the bombardment. The fishermen add that the only Turks who had any desire to fight were a few artillerymen who had never fired the ancient guns in the forts and wanted to do so out of curiosity.

FIGHTERS ARE FINER

A fine of $5 was imposed on both Frank Russell and Harry Welsh, who were brought into police court this morning charged with fighting.

WORKERS KILLED CAUGHT IN SHAFT

Superintendent Held for Criminal Carelessness for Underground Disaster in New York

NEW YORK, Oct. 9.—Trapped in a rock shaft sixty feet under the ground, four men were blown to pieces and six injured, in an explosion at West Drive and 66th street, Central park, here early today.

The shaft is one of a score or more being sunk at various places in the city in preparation for the new aqueduct. The dead were laborers who went down early today to drill holes for dynamite charges. It is believed that a stick of the explosive, carelessly left in the shaft after work on Saturday night, caused the disaster.

Inaccessibility of the shaft and the darkness delayed the rescue work, but finally workmen lowered buckets, brought up the dead and wounded. Foreman Michael Kearney, 38, was the most severely wounded of the six.

Superintendent Martin and Foreman Kearney will be held on charge of criminal carelessness.

to take some food, and to pay what she liked to the local relief committee.

Rich and Hungry

There were many such people at the car, stylish women and many who were used to affluence. One lady said there were three people in her family, but her house contained twenty refugees, and she had given them her last food for a scanty breakfast thirteen hours earlier.

He Was "Foxy"

A German citizen who could not understand English interpreted the attempt to keep him in line as intended to refuse him food. He finally got in, and wormed his way to the front. The fact was finally elicited that he had a large family and they had not eaten that day. Mr. Dengler placed a sack of flour on his back and told him to come back with a basket for other things.

With a covetous hold on the sack, the man furtively slipped by the deputies until the door was before him. Then he made a dash out upon the steps. There he paused momentarily to fling back a laugh of triumph at the men whom he thought his strategy had outwitted, then dashed up the street, a grotesque figure clinging to his supposed loot and speeding away in the bright moonlight. He didn't come back with his basket, he didn't understand.

That night about one-third of the car's contents were distributed, the work being finished at 10:30. The car was then left in the hands of deputy sheriffs.

sible for the disaster," said Mr. Parsons. "It held the water and when it broke at the ends our dam could not stand the strain of the millions of tons added weight."

That the city will be rebuilt was further verified this afternoon by City Clerk Parsons.

"The selection of the site for the new business district is all that remains to be done," he said. "It will probably be rebuilt on the high ground west of the city or on the hill north. There is some talk of building on the east shore of the river but this idea has not taken well. The site west of the city will probably see the erection of the new Black River Falls."

PRESIDENT ASKED TO AID SUFERERS

Mayor John Dengler, held in the mayor's office at the city hall this morning, it was decided to delay the sending of more supplies or money donations until Governor McGovern issued his proclamation.

A telephone communication from Black River Falls stated that the city had received food from Milwaukee and other places and that funds were now needed most.

RODNEY SACKETT NAMES BANCROFT

Says Attorney General Has Always Been a Stephenson Man

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Oct. 9.—At the reopening of the Stephenson investigation this morning Edward McMahon of Milwaukee and former Assemblyman Thomas Reynolds of Door county, who handled Stephenson money, were summoned. Reynolds was sworn. Senator Stephenson was not present at the opening. Asked about legislative candidates who received Stephenson money Rodney Sackett, who resumed the stand, named L. H. Bancroft of Richland Center, C. C. Wellingsard of Berlin, Joseph Schauer of Oconto, and "a man named Kempf who sent in a bill for putting up posters."

Asked by Senator Sutherland regarding the Wellingsard item, he said: "Well, in traveling around in Stephenson's interests he doubtless availed himself of the opportunity to look after his own interests."

The witness said: "As I recall it Mr. Wellingsard filed a separate account of his own expenses."

The witness cited eight men, among them A. R. Ames of Madison, whose statements do not appear in the records of the legislative committee. He was directed to later prepare a statement of all money spent and not accounted for. Senator Pomeroy questioned the witness sharply on why he had not kept itemized accounts or required them of his sub-managers.

"Because I regarded the law as requiring that a candidate should make an itemized statement of money paid out by him, but not of moneys spent by others for him."

"Well, don't you know that the law regards the acts of an agent as the acts of the principal and how do you think good faith on Senator Stephenson's part with the people of Wisconsin could be met by such conditions?"

"I think he complied with the law."

The witness said he and Mr. Edwards, assisted by Mary, Upham & Black, Milwaukee attorneys, first studied the expense accounts of F. E. McGovern, now governor, then a candidate for senator, so as to make it as nearly like McGovern's as possible."

Questioned by Littlefield the witness said the law required state and other officers to prosecute failures to file itemized accounts, but no prosecutions had been begun against Stephenson or any of his managers.

Regarding legislative candidates who received money the witness said Bancroft and Wellingsard had always been Stephenson men and had previously voted for Stephenson.

COLORADO TOWNS ARE LOST IN FLOOD

Loss of Life Unknown; Sections Hardest Hit Are Cut Off from Communication

DURANGO, Colo., Oct. 9. — The receding today of the deluge that inundated towns, valleys and almost entire counties in southwestern Colorado and northwestern New Mexico reveals devastation in every direction from Durango.

The loss of life is not yet known, as two sections hit hardest by the floods are still cut off from communication. These sections are the ones which contained the village of Arboles and the district south of the San Juan river, in the vicinity of Farmington, N. M.

The news that Arboles was entirely swept away has been confirmed. The south bank of the San Juan and the country in that section is inhabited by many Mexican families, and it is feared that these have been drowned.

Meager reports from every section of the inundated country with the question of these two districts, total the actual known deaths at two. J. Rice, an attaché of the Methodist mission, four miles west of Farmington, was swept away with one of the buildings when he refused to flee.

John Weston, a rancher, was swept down with the flood.

The loss of property throughout the flooded area cannot yet be even estimated, but will probably exceed $2,000,000.

SUPREME COURT DOCKET IS FULL

Problems of Greatest Importance Before U. S. Tribunal Convened Today

ARGUMENTS FOR TOMORROW

Extent of State Railroad Commission's Power Over Rates Is First Question

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9.—The supreme court of the United States, confronted with problems the solution of which will have a most important bearing upon the political and economic development of the nation, convened at noon today for the October term. Chief Justice White and all of the associate justices, except Justice Day, whose wife is ill, were present.

The hearing of the arguments will not begin until tomorrow. At that time the first of the important cases, which have been assigned for hearing before the call of the regular docket will be taken up. The question as to how far the state railroad commissions may exercise control in reducing or adjusting rates on intrastate commerce without conflicting with the federal control of interstate commerce; the question of the constitutionality of the initiative, the referendum method of government, and the question as to what extent the Sherman anti-trust law may be applied in various kinds of combinations are included in the cases for early hearing.

Regulation of Railroads

The regulation of railroads by the states, involving the so-called Minnesota rate cases, in which Governors Harmon, Aldrich and Hadley were directed by the house of governors to present a plea on behalf of the states, is up. In each of these the constitutionality of the law creating the state commissions is contested by the railroads and specific rate reductions involving fundamental questions in rate regulation and the objects of attack.

The most important of the pending trust cases is the suit by the government to dissolve the so-called anthracite coal trust, composed of a number of railroads and their subsidiary coal companies and independent operators with whom they have contracts.

Questions growing out of the administration of the anti-trust law are whether railroad terminal associations such as that at St. Louis, are combinations in restraint of trade and whether a "corner" on any commodity, such as the cotton corner manipulated by James A. Patten and other big operators, are also amenable to prosecutions under this act. The fate of the bucket shop cases, the result of raids in large cities on the various parts of the country, more than a year ago; the success or the failure in part of the government's efforts to prevent the coal lands of Alaska from falling into the hands of large corporations, and the stability of certain orders of the interstate commerce commission, are all involved, together with many other important questions, are cases which will be taken up for immediate consideration.

The court has 800 cases, the record for the opening day.

STRANGE FREAKS OF THE BIG FLOOD

Nothing is more freakish than a big flood, and the story of the Black River disaster is replete with odd happenings and strange incidents.

When a building used for the storage of lime fell into the river intact and floated away, a sensation was created by what appeared to be smoke pouring from the structure. The illusion was caused when the lime and water came together, and the floating apparition was picturesque indeed.

A brick shoe store in the second story of which were piles of shoes in boxes dissolved in the flood, the walls falling outward and carrying the roof away. The rest of the building war-borne down stream the second floor with its cargo of shoes being clear of the water. A boat took the shoes off at a point three miles down stream, somewhat the worse for wear.

Among the salvage secured down the river was the cash register of the Jones Mercantile company. That this heavy metal machine floated several miles without sinking evidences the power of the flood.

Mrs. Fannie Post, a sister-in-law of Shell Post of this city, mistress of the Freeman House, whose family has run the hostelry for sixty odd years, couldn't be made to believe that the house was in danger. Finally, under protest, she permitted herself to be persuaded, but refused to bother about taking any of her effects. Fifteen minutes after she had left the hotel it was whirling down the river in the torrent, and the lot on which it stood had disappeared. At this minute Mrs. Ely's worldly goods consist of the calico dress which she wore upon leaving her home.

Every saloon in town was swept away, so there was much surprise late Friday afternoon when wild war-whoops announced the reeling approach of a Winnebago Indian. He had a peach of a jag. Asked where he got it, he waved his hand toward the timber below the city and said: "Big wood him heap full fire-water."

And so they were, as some of the white brothers who shortly took to the tall timber discovered. The saloon stocks of bottled goods had been dumped in a grove, high and dry. For $10 apiece four young, dare-devils entered the collapsing store of a Black River Falls jeweler, risking their lives, and for the $40 he paid them, removed a stock worth $40,000.

Three pair of scissors bearing the trademark of Pollock & Son were found several miles below the city and preserved as souvenirs. This proves that iron implements will float in Black river—sometimes.

An interesting sight during the crest of the flood was the frame cash and door plant of J. J. McGillivray, withstanding the flood on an island in the very center of the stream while the bluff, crested with stone and concrete buildings, melted away. The McGillivray plant was built on a granite outcropping and the main force of the current missed it.

Uncle Sam did a rushing business on the curb. When a portion of the postoffice began to project over the flood, Acting Postmaster Tollack established himself on the sidewalk further up the street, distributed mail and did a rushing business in postage stamps and money orders.

It may be reiterated to say that the most remarkable feature of the flood is that people lost not only their homes and personal property, but that the real estate was swept away. People who have money with which to rebuild have nothing to build upon, nor with Water street forming a new river channel will the remaining adjacent land be safe until the river is diverted from the city.

"The flood and the newspapers are certainly doing business in Black River Falls," was the assertion of one citizen after he had been drowned out and then interviewed at least a thousand times by representatives.

The minute the news of the story spread over the country every paper of importance in the northwest rushed staff correspondents directly to the scene of the flood—Black River Falls—for complete, detailed and authentic reports of the damage there. The Tribune was one of the first to arrive on the ground. By early morning Saturday, however, the Minneapolis "bunch" had landed and had taken complete charge of the court house. Every typewriter in that building had been pressed into service, and county officers, after one look into the reporter-inhabited building, passed up all work for the day and turned over the county to the press.

Every courtesy was shown the visiting newspaper men, citizens who lost everything found time in the excitement to give a reporter the information he was seeking.

It was to the press that Mayor McGillivray first made known the appeal to surround towns for aid. "You fellows can make news travel faster than I can," he said.

Within thirty minutes after The Tribune's representative had been told that an appeal would be sent to La Crosse for help, he received a long distance call from La Crosse telling that a Northwestern special car would arrive with food stuffs.

Incidentally La Crosse was the first to respond to the appeal and had the first relief in the stricken city Saturday.

Illustrative of the optimism of the financial sufferers is the following: "Are you a newspaper man?" queried a clean cut, middle aged man of The Tribune's reporter, as they were leaving the train at Black River Falls.

Receiving an affirmative reply he explained that he was a Black River Falls citizen and had just returned from Chicago.

"I was interviewed on it down there," he explained.

Questioning on the part of the reporter brought out that the stranger was D. C. Jones.

"What's your business?" he was asked.

"I'm head of the D. C. Jones Lumber and Mercantile company," was the reply.

"Did you lose much?" asked the reporter.

"There's my plant and everything that went with it," replied Mr. Jones, pointing to an especially rapid place in the middle of the river.

"Do you mean that you have lost your entire plant?"

"Yep, and it was worth just exactly $40,000 as it stood."

And the smile that accompanied the last remark left no doubt in the mind of the reporter but that Mr. Jones was a "game loser."

W. P. D. S. UPHOLDS RECALL OF JUDGES

High School Jury Decides that Recall of Judges Would Benefit the United States

The question debated by the W. P. D. S. at the high school last night was, Resolved, that the recall extend to the judiciary. The debate was spirited, both sides presenting splendid arguments. The jury, consisting of Dean, Swennes, Hannenberg, rendered a decision of 2 to 1 in favor of the affirmative which was upheld by A. Bull and M. Figgie who were opposed by Reimers and T. Skemp. W. Sorgel was critic of the evening.

The society will hold no meeting next week because of the teachers' convention being held here at that time.

The W. P. D. S. together with the L. D. D. S. have been successful in obtaining The Roney's Boys Concert for Thursday, Oct. 19. The Roney Boys performed at the high school two years ago and were highly praised by all who heard them. This is Mr. Roney's twenty-third successful year with various groups of boys, having pleased the people of every city of importance in the United States. The company consists of Mr. Roney and five boy musicians who are among the best in the country. Mr. Roney's popularity is shown by the constant demand for return engagements in the cities where he has performed. The societies are already at work advertising the concert and selling tickets in their attempt to get a large turnout for the event.

Resolved, that the Judicial Recall be Adopted by the Several States, was the question debated by the L. D. D. S. at the high school Friday night. The debate was long and heated and was also well prepared. K. Dickens and F. Witcraft for the affirmative were victorious by a vote of 2 to 1 over the negative upheld by A. Euler and L. Cunningham. The jury consisting of Renner, Mahoney and Lewis also rendered a decision of 3 to 0, in favor of the affirmative in the informal debate. T. Brown gave an interesting talk about the great flood at Austin, Pa. The question for next week is, Resolved, that the City of La Crosse Make the Wagon Bridge Free Unconditionally.

MISSISSIPPI STAGE BREAKS 1911 RECORD

The Mississippi has reached the highest mark today that it has reached this year, swollen by the dam at Hatfield and swept away the major portion of the little city of Black River Falls. The mark on the gauge at the bridge at noon today was 8 1/2 feet, a rise of over six-tenths of a foot since yesterday afternoon at 5 o'clock. According to indications, the water has not yet reached its highest stage. Old rivermen predict that the river will reach the ten foot stage before subsiding.

The sloughs are full of water, backed up from the floods in the river.

The marsh between the North and South sides is flooded on both sides of the causeway. Black river raised a half a foot over night. The stream is filled with rubbish, brush, lumber and flecked with great lumps of foam. Boats, chicken coops and other articles are floating down in great numbers. A group of six boys on the North side captured three stray boats Saturday afternoon in a couple of hours' time, and at Onalaska the citizens are snaring with wires and ropes a great amount of lumber and articles of various sorts that are floating down the stream.

U. S. CROP REPORT

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9.—The department of agriculture this afternoon issued a crop report showing the condition of corn October 1 to have been 70.4, compared with 80.3 in 1910 ten years average of 78.6.

The estimated yield of crops per acre was shown as follows:

Corn 23.8 bushels, last year it was 27.4. The four-year average was 27.1 bushels.

Spring wheat 9.7 bushels, four year average 13.5.

Winter wheat 14.5 bushels four year average, 15.5 bushels.

All wheat 12.6 bushels, four year average, 14.7 bushels.

Oats 24.8 bushels, four year average 28.4.

The quality of spring wheat was reported at 79.8, compared with a ten year average of 87.1. The quality of oats was shown as 84.6, compared with a ten year average of 86.6.

At the bottom of all things there is good, and if you just look deep enough you will see it.

The world may "owe us a living"—but we've got to get a judgment first!

CALIFORNIA TO VOTE PROGRESSIVE LAWS

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 9.—After one of the most vigorous campaigns in the history of this state, California voters will vote on twenty-three proposed amendments to the state constitution at a special election tomorrow. The amendments are all of importance, the most vital being the proposition for the initiative, referendum and recall, and equal suffrage for women.

The submission of the 23 amendments is the direct result of Governor Johnson's election on a progressive platform. The last legislature prepared the amendments and set tomorrow for the special election.

The hawss-race itself is always a dead sure thing—it's only our bet that goes astray!

The lonest man in all the world today is "the good fellow when he had it!"

CALL POLICE TO TAKE CARE OF FANS

NEW YORK, Oct. 9.—Overwhelmed by mail orders and harassed by thousands of fans demanding seats for the world's series games, managers of the New York Baseball club had to install a force of husky special policemen at their offices to keep order. Only mail orders for seats are considered, but notwithstanding this announcement thousands of fans are besieging the offices for the coveted tickets.

From applications received so far, officials estimate that every seat for every New York game has already been sold. Distribution of the tickets will begin early next week.

It's barely possible though, that it can't be done without a makeup.

QUIT YELLING, GIRLS! SAYS IDA COMSTOCK

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Oct. 9.—"Women should not cheer at football games. It is unwomanly. They should confine themselves to the singing of college songs and waving of their college banners," says Miss Ida Comstock, dean of women at the University of Minnesota.

According to Miss Comstock, there is nothing more dispiriting than the attempt on the part of a lot of women to cheer or yell in concert. They do not inspire the charge, but rather panic stricken fight, intimates Miss Comstock.

The noise resembles nothing so much as the moanings of one in the throes of a nightmare. Women can shriek, but they are unable to sound warlike notes.

"I would like to see a girls' rooting team at the university," said Earl Pickering, captain and star of the university eleven. "For myself, I would say that I distinguish the cheers of the coeds above the deep intonations of the rooting club, and they inspire me. I believe that women's cheers have won as many games of football for Minnesota university as any bunch of warriors that ever dug up the turf on the gridiron."

Miss Comstock says that she would consider it a misfortune if any organization were formed for feminine rooters.

WEIMER AND STRUM SCORE

Local Quarter Plays Star Game; Fumble by Renner Gives Indians Touchdown

- Scores:
- La Crosse — Weimar—Two touchdowns.
- Strum—One touchdown.
- Jungbluth—Two goals.
- Tomah—Ray—Touchdown.

The high school eleven defeated the Tomah Indians Saturday afternoon at the League park by a score of 17 to 5. The first half of the game was marked by brilliant play on the part of the local squad which broke through the Redskins' line at will and repeatedly made gain after gain. The second half was slow and dragged due perhaps to the fact that three inexperienced men were put in the game at the beginning of the half, and broke up the machine-like team work of the eleven.

As a whole the squad showed a decided improvement over last Saturday's game. Hundredmark, Bovee, Hayes, Chamberlain and Jungbluth in the line were invincible, not at any time permitting the Indians to break through the line, and Marshall, Weibrecht and Weimar in the back field picked their holes and made their plunges in midseason style. Long forward passes were made by Strum to Dickens and Stavrum who grabbed them from the air and tore down the field for long gains.

The crowd was not large considering the perfect weather.

How They Did It

Captain Charles of the Indians, won the toss and chose to defend the goal. Jungbluth kicked to ten yard line and the Indians returned it a yard. The Indians made no gain in two attempts through the line. Wolfe punted 10 yards to Marshall who signalled for a fair catch. The Indians were penalized 10 yards for interfering with Marshall. The highs failed to make their downs. Time was taken out for Chamberlain who was kicked in the eye. After two attempts to gain through the line the Indians were forced to punt. Weibrecht made a fair catch and tore off 20 yards on a formation play. Stavrum lost two on the same play. Marshall fumbled a forward pass. Dickens made first down on a forward pass. Goal to go. Marshall and Weibrecht advanced the ball six yards and Weimar went over for a touchdown. Jungbluth kicked goal. La Crosse 6, Indians 0.

Indians kicked off to Strum on the ten yard line who returned it to the center of the field. Captain Charles took Issham's place at left half. Dickens made twenty yards on a forward pass. Strum made twenty on a quarter back run. Time was called shortly after, with the ball in Tomah's possession on the high's twenty-five yard line.

The game was resumed with Stavrum tackling Captain Charles for a twenty yards loss. The Indians punted to Strum who returned the ball to the thirty yard line. The ball was steadily advanced to the Indians' two yard line where it was held for downs. Weibrecht returned the Indians' punt to the 30 yard line. Jungbluth fumbled a forward pass and the ball was returned to the Indians' five yard line. Charles failed to gain in the first half. An attempted forward pass to Bovee went wild giving the pigskin to the Indians. Hundredmark and Hayes broke through the Indians' line for several brilliant tackles. The oval seasawed back and forth and the quarter ended with the Indians in possession of the oval.

The game being practically won, Coach Carter put in Gunderson at center, Casberg at left guard and Renner at right half. Renner was slightly nervous, being put in during the heat of the game and fumbled punts repeatedly. Both teams punted considerably during this quarter and finally Ray made a punt and by breaking through the highs' line, recovered the pigskin and went over for a touchdown. Charles failed to kick goal. Score: High school 17; Indians 5. The rest of the game was a punting fest and finally ended with the highs in possession of the ball.

The lineup was as follows: Indians—Re, W. Ray; rt, E. Denomie; rg, Sickles; c, Baird; lg, G. Denomie; lt, Wolfe; le, Scharrette; qb, J. Ray; lh, Issham, Capt. Charles; fb, Corneliuss; rh, Lamot; subs, Smith, Demar and King.

The Indians came back strong in the third quarter and played better ball, not permitting the highs to gain at will as in the first half. Instead of being good and participating in the world's series at about 3,000 Bugs Raymond is pitching ball for the Gunthers, a semi-professional team of Chicago. Yesterday he was batted out of the box. But Bugs soliloquizes the cup and fire of the spring, the winter garment of repentance fling. That portion regarding the bird of time is omitted intentionally—we could repeat it.

It took eleven innings and Hans Wagners for the Cubs to beat the Giants. Fred Clark says he has a winner in Young Hendrix, the Kansas City semi-pro twirler for the Buccaneers.

Harmon was unusually effective and probably overly generous. He yielded two hits to the Reds and the Cardinals won as they pleased, 5 to 0.

Eighty-four paid admissions saw the Browns slaughter the Tigers in the jungles of St. Louis. The first score was 17 to 2 and the second was 5 to 0.

Rolie Seider, sub third baseman on the White Sox, was a shining star yesterday. Five times at bat, four hits, one home run, five runs scored, one stolen base, three hits and no errors.

JURY GIVES ONLY NOT GUILTY VERDICT TO LOCAL MAN; JURY DISMISSED; JUDGMENTS GIVEN

The jury in the case of the United States vs. Joseph Kajawa, a local saloon keeper, charged with selling liquor to Indians, returned a verdict of not guilty at 3:10 Saturday afternoon.

Several Indians asserted that he had sold liquor to one of their number Wednesday night but the defendant produced four witnesses who were present at the time and who substantiated his declaration to the effect that he had ordered them out of the saloon. Mr. Kajawa is the owner of a saloon at Second and Vine streets.

Following this case the petit jury was discharged and the jury cases of the present term of court were brought to an end.

Judge Landis sentenced the following previous to the morning adjournment: Joseph Auger, Ashland, selling liquor to Indians, $200 and six months in the La Crosse county jail; Fred O'Day, Ashland, selling liquor to Indians, $250 and six months in the county jail; Mathew Wilson, Woodruff, selling liquor to Indians, $100 and six months in jail, jail sentence suspended; John Anderson, Ashland, $250 and six months in jail, selling liquor to Indians.
